

Why Should You
Care About

Political Action?

“Our union gives us power to create changes in our work place.

By contributing to our unions political action fund, COPE, we can extend our influence outside of our jobs and create the change we need in our communities and the political arena.”

~ Daniel Ames, SEIU Steward ~
Eligibility Specialist, UMC

Join Daniel - Sign Up Today to Contribute to Our Committee on Political Education.

Because just like in 2008... There's a lot at stake in 2010.

It takes everyone to ensure our voice is heard in the political arena. And that takes money. If we all do our part, we can win at the ballot box and get results on what matters—a paycheck that supports our family, affordable health care, and a new American Dream for everyone.

Our contracts give us power over the decisions in our workplace that affect us. Decisions are made everyday outside our workplace that impact our lives both inside and outside of work. Whether you work in the public or private sector, political action matters. So many aspects of our work depends on government agencies and politicians doing what's right and standing up for quality care and quality public service.

We know when we speak with one voice about what working families need, politicians listen. We need to make them listen.

For more information contact Melissa Brown, 400-7924.